

THE FALLS CITY TRIBUNE.

Vol. III

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1906.

Whole No. 136

Democratic County Convention Gather.

The faithful and moss covered democrats from all parts of the county gathered Monday and after looking over the crowd concluded that Henry Gerdes of Barada was about the best looker for chairman and he was selected as such.

Oliver Hall of Humboldt Standard and Chas Davis of the News were the choice for secretaries.

The chairman gave a rip roaring, old time democratic speech, setting forth every error made by the republican party, that he could call to mind. While he appeared to be loaded along this line, he did not touch on any good thing the democrats had ever done for the dear people. He closed with the remark that had he been aware that he was to fill this honorable position, he could have told enough of republican shortcomings to fill a book.

The temporary organization was upon motion made permanent, then in good old democratic style the wheel horse swung on the corner and moved to select all delegates to the various conventions, by a committee selected for that purpose and the slate was complete.

Col. Dalby introduced a nice bunch of resolutions indorsing the Kansas City platform and implicit allegiance to the will of William Jennings Bryan.

A resolution denouncing the present school law and asking its repeal, was introduced and carried unanimously.

Speeches were made denouncing the State University and other state institutions as public grafts.

After the selection of the delegates to the different conventions, John Gagnon introduced a resolution instructing the delegates to the state convention to use all honorable means to nominate Ed Falloon for attorney general.

The legislative ticket was then looked after and the following choice was made: Ed Lambert of Porter precinct, J. S. Von Berger of Nemaha precinct and John Santo of Rulo were the choice of the convention upon the first formal ballot. The nominees all placed themselves upon record as willing to turn the earth in their effort for the betterment of mankind.

Amos Gantt and R. C. James were nominated for office of county attorney and the latter selected.

George Fallstead was named as chairman of the County Central committee and the various precincts named their chairmen.

It was amusing at the opening to see the sage of Barada, John Morehead, and the Czar of the west end, J. F. Walsh, show their teeth for supremacy in the organization of this body. Mr. Walsh's name was mentioned for chairman which brought Mr. Morehead to his feet with the name of Gerdes on his lips—"A man who had never been a bolter or traitor in the ranks." The old war horse from the west end saw the situation and as gracefully as is possible for him to do withdrew his name. The "lion and lamb" drama was beautifully pictured from this time on throughout the convention.

The Band Concert.

The largest crowd that has gathered on Stone street for many moons was assembled

Saturday night to hear the concert given by the Hiawatha band. A great many farmers and country people were in the crowd so many in fact that every hitch rack was filled with their teams and every livery stable full.

The band arrived late but the concert was worth waiting for. The boys play in splendid unison and their tone shading is remarkable for an amateur band. Prof. Harnack selected the program with his usual good taste and the inspiration of the magnificent crowd caused the boys to put their best efforts into each number. The people of Falls City and vicinity congratulate Hiawatha upon this splendid musical organization, and tender their thanks to the members thereof for a pleasant evening.

Gilligan Fruit Farm.

Uncle George Grinstead brought us in a basket of peaches last Saturday which were the tops of this season's peach crop. They were grown at the Gilligan Fruit Farm and were a good sample of the excellent products of that place.

The flavor of the peaches was very sweet and delicious, while the appearance alone was enough to tempt any mortal, being of a creamy white, with the prettiest touch of red covering one half of the surface. The yield at the Gilligan fruit farm farm composes the best varieties of peaches, pears, plums, grapes and apples.

A fine new residence is nearing completion at the Farm adding another place of beauty to Falls City's many, handsome residences.

Uncle George, never forgets his friends, and he has the thanks of the entire Tribune force for his generous remembrance of us last Saturday.

Petit Jurors.

The following is a list of the petit jurors who will serve at the district court which convenes September 17th:

Alfred Bucher	John Rhodes
Hugh Phillips	Hugh O'Grady, sr
Charles Neimeyer	M. Glamm
C. Wamsley	Lloyd Morris
George Mathers	O. B. Leslie
Jacob Hunker, jr	D. W. Sowles
Edward Ege	Gottlieb Waechter
W. M. Drago	F. J. Feasel
C. E. Nims	Arnold Schuett
George Ward	George Peck
C. A. Stewart	Charles Bright
John Randolph	Frank Brenner

The Winners Line Up.

Heck he does the catching,
And he does not do it slow;
Cap he does the pitching,
And curves them out just so.

Reavis is the short stop,
He never gets in the air;
Wright and Spence play first base,
And they are certainly there.

Poteet, the second baseman,
When a hot one comes to him,
Picks it up and throws it
Just like a said whirlwind.

Huber, that one third baseman,
Now please don't take a fit,
When a ball comes tearing to him
It never rolls out his mit.

Jellison, Morris and Kern
Haul in all the flies;
They say it is just like eating
Grandma's apple pies.

Now this is one of the reasons
Why other teams take a back seat,
Whenever they buck up against our team.

They are always sure to get beat.
—HUBER.

Musical.

The musical rendered at the Christian church on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the C. E. Society was very successful. The program was a pleasing one for a mid-summer evening, not being long and tiresome.

Several of our best local talent appeared and each and every one of the twelve numbers were heartily encored.

Institute.

And once more the learned ones have taken possession of the town, institute having commenced Monday morning and will continue until to-morrow noon.

Although in rather warm season the institute generally attracts wide spread interest and attention, this one being no exception to the general rule. The review and instructions at these institutions are very helpful to the teachers, in their term work to follow.

Thursday morning there were enrolled one hundred and thirty-two in comparison with one hundred and sixty-nine enrollment last year. Those in attendance are very enthusiastic and an air of good will and pleasure has been manifested through the entire session.

The instructors who have taught in several summer training schools and institutes this year say that the local one has enjoyed the largest and best attendance of any where they have been.

The music under the instructions of Prof. W. L. Evans is certainly excellent. He was at Wahoo last year and will be at Auburn this term.

The management was fortunate in securing Mrs. Fernanda Keim as pianoist during the week.

On Tuesday afternoon there was a meeting of the school board and new certification law was discussed at length. All the superintendents, principals and institute instructors, with one exception, expressed themselves as favorable to the above mentioned law.

Prof. J. A. Beattie gave a lecture at the Brethern church Wednesday evening which was well received. The instructors at the institute are J. A. Beattie, R. L. Hoff, Mr. Tobie, N. A. Bergtson, Cammie Hall, J. W. Watson, Miss Greever and W. L. Evans.

Prof. T. J. Oliver, county Superintendent, had charge as Director and informs us that the educational outlook is very flattering. There are not over ten or fifteen in attendance at the Institute who have not secured schools for the coming term. There are still about forty-eight schools without a teacher, these being entirely in the rural districts.

Following is a list of those in attendance at the Institute in the order of their enrollment.

Ethel B. Kropp	Clara McDermet
Jennie Marsh	C. D. Bohaman

The Champions.

That large basketful of peaches given to this force on Monday with the compliments of Samuel Bucher was certainly a hummer. He and Uncle George Grinstead have about tied for first place when it comes to peaches of good variety. The basket of Champions given us by Mr. Bucher were certainly delicious, being large, juicy, good color and elegant taste. They are along the quality line of the generous box of cherries he presented to us the first of the fruit season.

Chester White Hogs.

It was our pleasure the past week, through the kindness of W. H. Crook, to visit the Uhlig farm east of the city and view one of the finest herds of Chester White hogs in the state.

Mr. Bennet, the owner, not only started right, by getting the tops from the very best herds, and fully understands their care, which the herd proves beyond question.

We do not mean by this that they are in show order, far from it, but when you look at a bunch of May pigs that will tip the beam at 150 pounds and built to perfection, we call it a good bunch to pick from.

As brood sows, we think this herd tops them all. Mr. Bennet tells us that from 9 sows he raised 95 choice pigs, but one runt in the bunch and that caused by injury. It will cost you nothing to examine this herd and if you are interested in stock it is certainly worth your while to drive out and see them.

Art Exhibit.

Those who have not inspected the exhibit of paintings, by Alice Cleaver, now on display at the White Art store, have missed a treat in the way of art. We say without hesitation, that it is one of the finest collections in this city, and shows the hand of a genius in each and every number. Miss Cleaver has spent much time and finance in her studies and richly deserves the highest honors accorded her in the high art schools in the land.

Marriage Record.

F. E. Lader, Dawson	33
Sarah Olson Dawson	20
Frank Carpenter, White Cloud	22
Grace Simmons	18
Married by Judge Gagnon.
Will Patterson, Falls City	22
Clara Young, Falls City	18
Married by Judge Gagnon.
George A. Jackson, Bigelow, Mo.	43
Mary Fresman, Bigelow, Mo.	53
Married by Judge Gagnon.
Marion Holcome, St. Joseph	24
Myrtle Howell, Falls City	22
Married by Judge Gagnon.

The Winners base-ball team of this city beat the Morrill nine in an interesting game on Tuesday afternoon, at the Poteet Park. No use talking, those boys play the said ball game, some more.

Messrs. Hammond and Hiatt of Morrill and Florence Wylie and Ruth Shock drove to the country residence of the latter and spent Sunday as her guests.

Mrs. V. E. Emerson returned to Dawson yesterday afternoon.

Horse Ran Away.

Last Thursday evening a very serious runaway happened which nearly resulted in the death of two parties. A. Yoder, Misses Edna Spencer and Blanche Burger were sitting in the buggy at the Burger home about seven miles south of this city. A threshing machine was standing on the far side of a near by orchard and the men, as is their custom at the close of the day's work, let off the steam. This frightened the horse, and turning quickly in the yard, it made a dash toward the peach orchard, upsetting the rig, and at last, after dragging the buggy through the orchard, it succeeded in getting loose and ran through a barbed wire fence. The three occupants of the buggy were thrown to the ground with great force. Mr. Yoder fell on his head and was unable to move for an hour. Miss Berger was probably the most injured, not getting over it entirely for four days. Miss Spencer was badly shaken up and bruised, but was more fortunate than the others. The buggy was almost demolished but the horse was only scratched. Those in the accident were very fortunate to escape from being killed instantly.

Vinegar Factory.

Through the enterprise and push on the part of a few of our citizens, we have succeeded in locating the Leo Vinegar Factory in our midst.

The Charles Heineman building has been leased and up-to-date machinery is being placed as rapidly as possible.

It is the intention to be ready to receive fruit by Sept. 1, and a market will thus be afforded for thousands of bushels of apples that would otherwise find no market and means many dollars to the farmers in this section.

The committee in charge still have stock in this enterprise for sale, and those desiring a few shares, should see them at once, as they desire to incorporate as soon as possible. For information see H. C. Smith, W. A. Greenwald or Ned Towle.

Scaffold Broke.

Tuesday morning while Albert Zimmer and Will King were painting the ceiling of one of the rooms at the Central school building, the scaffold on which they were standing, broke down throwing both of the gentlemen to the floor with great force. The ceilings to these rooms are necessarily extremely high and the boys plunged downward about thirty feet. Their escape from serious injury was miraculous. Neither one care to experience a repetition of the event, once being a great sufficiency.

Democratic Nominees.

The Democratic State convention at Lincoln yesterday completely sold out to the railroads by nominating Shallenbarger for Governor and defeating George W. Berge. Mr. Berge was a strong supporter of the anti-railroad propoganda, while Shallenbarger has always been recognized as a railroad tool.

Shallenbarger is the man who cursed Bryan as a dictator and tried to keep him from being a delegate to the National convention at St. Louis. Shallenbarger made a speech for his party during the last campaign and then sent a big bill for services. What George Sheldon will do to him will be plenty.

Hon. T. C. Doyle, a Lincoln lawyer was nominated for Congress.

Society News.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Elder E. C. Yoder last Saturday, taking him completely by surprise, thus reminding him very pleasantly that it was his 64th birthday. His children from near Morrill, Kansas were present and with the many friends made the event one of pleasure to all. A bountiful dinner replete with dainty and appetizing dishes, was served. Rev. Yoder received many beautiful gifts from his friends, and all on departing wished him many more birthday events.

The M. E. Kensington enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Fast on Wednesday of this week. Although the day was extremely warm, the discomforts of the weather were promptly forgotten when the guests were gathered in the cool and inviting home of this popular hostess.

Jennie and Mattie Shock entertained about twenty couple of young people on Wednesday evening at a lawn party. Seven o'clock luncheon was served in picnic style, on the grass, and much merriment and pleasure passed the evening away all too quickly.

After their business session on Tuesday evening the local order of W. O. W's repaired en masse to the Candy Kitchen parlors where they enjoyed ice-cream, sundaes and sodas, put up in the tempting manner, that institution employs.

Mrs. Van Winkle entertained several of her friends at an elegant 6 o'clock dinner on Saturday evening, in honor of Mrs. Ayers of Hiawatha, and Mesdames Martha Weaver and Ruth Dennis of Zion City.

Helen Burchard entertained a number of friends Thursday at a progressive six o'clock dinner. It was a very elaborate and enjoyable social event.

Mrs. Wm. Cade entertained at luncheon today Mrs. J. A. Hill of this city and Mrs. Strang of Chicago. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

Mrs. John Oswald was hostess to the young married ladies Kensington club on Thursday afternoon.

Death Record.

The life of John M. Brecht was brought to a close last Monday at his home a few miles south of this city. Mr. Brecht was born in Germany in the year 1850 and when 23 years of age came to this country, settling in Richardson county, where he has lived for the past 33 years. Cancer of the stomach, from which he has suffered for some time, was the cause of his demise.

The deceased has long been identified with this county's up-building and it is with regret that his life was broken in its earthly career. He leaves four children, three sons and one daughter, all of whom are married.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at the Evangelical church by Rev. Manshardt, interment in Steele cemetery under charge of Reavis and Abbey, undertakers.

On Sunday, August the 12th occurred the death of Amelia Marion, the ten month's old daughter of Henry Zimmerman and wife, who live north east of here, in Barada township. The little one's death was caused by cholera infantum.

Funeral services were held Monday the 13th and the little form was laid at rest at Williamsville, Nebr.
